If you're reading this article to see what magazines accept fashion magazine submissions, you came to the right place. If you're here because you want to submit your work or be featured on MODISCH, .

As a result of advancements in communication, the business of fashion magazines and publishing is quickly changing. Due to the rise of social media and content publishing platforms like Instagram and Issuu, many of the barriers to publishing no longer exist. Even though large publishing powerhouses still dominate our news feeds and newsstands, even they too are being forced to evolve. Because of this change in fashion magazine publishing, there is now a new market of readers giving way to a new era of fashion publishers, The Independent Fashion Magazine.

Keeping up with MODISCH, Submissions

While many professionals in the industry have mixed emotions about this "fast-fashion" barrage of media, there's no denying the power of this quick-fire exposure. Just years ago, many of us were spending our late nights responding to castings and writing on profile walls of ModelMayhem (you know we've all been there), attempting to coordinate photoshoots or find new creative talent to work with. For many of us this proved to a pivotal time in network building and We are sure it feels somewhat nostalgic to think back now. However, the days of forums and online castings are quickly losing their momentum and the future of fashion publishing is about speed. So how exactly do you keep up and 'go with the flow'?

The simple answer is, Exposure. Your job as a creative professional is to get your work in front of as many eyes as possible and through doing so you'll make valuable connections along the way. Sure, some of them will be irrelevant or maybe some connections just won't quite meet your "aesthetic", but the more you present your work to new audiences of viewers the more likely it is that you will make a connection that can truly transform your career.

Are you fashion-beauty photographers, sensual photographers, bloggers, writers, models or other creative professional, NO MATTERS.

You can SUBMIT your creative works. ;-)

We occasionally accept submissions for online exclusive features and pitches for print. So please feel free to e-mail us with ideas and samples of your work. Furthermore we are also always on the lookout for new and regular contributors, including photographers, stylists, writers, illustrators and graphic designers. So, whether you are an established professional or the new kid on the block and you feel your work suits our style and quality, we can't wait to hear from you! When submitting photo shoots, please send a full selection of photographs and a credit list for all clothing/accessories used.
